MELLON ASKS DRY LAW ENFORCEMENT TRANSFER

'ROUND 'N' 'ROUND

That squeal in your radio which sounds like a mouse may really be a mouse. Yes! We have positive proof.

Of course we were first told that it was an opossum, then Brownie insisted it was a rat, but finally admitted it was only a mouse—one of the cheese eating variety.

With reports from one of his radio clients that his radio would produce nothing but squeaks, Brownie went forth to investigate.

While one of his noble aids stood guard with a blunderbuss, the brave trouble shooter continued his investigations. He found several wires chewed off—then the cause of the trouble, Mr. Mouse had encountered a live wire in his explorations. The mouse had chewed his last wires for the charged wire had sent him to the place where all good mice go.

Those squeals which followed the death of the rodent may have come from his ghost, or from the air—the natural results of having the wires separated. Brownie insists that most anything would squeal if it had several of its most important lines of communication in its inner workings chewed in two.

But now there is another problem for radio builders. Whether to build all radios of mouseproof metal or to supply a cat with each set.

It has also been suggested that a couple of traps might be furnished with each new set sold.

Of course Brownie insisted that nothing be said about this matter in the press, although his first act after finding the mouse was to call a newspaper friend and tell him the first name out in great length.

We expect a large amount of thanks within the next few days from radio owners who have discovered that the squeals in their radio also came from a mouse, rat or other rodent. In fact it will be such a wonderful excuse when the radio refuses to function in the presence of company to blame it on "those mice again."

Maybe that wasn't a mouse Brownie found after all. It might have been one of those famous radio bugs, who have been in the eyes of the public so much in recent years.

Be that as it may after the animal—whatever it was—had been removed and the wires repaired the radio sent forth its usual story of jazz—minus the squeals of course.

REFUSES TO DISCUSS WORTH

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—(U.P.)—The 75-year old banker who has been enforcing prohibition for the last nine years refused today to tell what he thought of it, and asked to be relieved of the task.

Andrew W. Mellon, Secretary of Treasury, appeared before a House executive expenditures subcommittee and approved the Hoover-Wickersham proposal to turn prohibition enforcement over to the attorney-general.

"We have done everything possible to enforce the law," Mellon said, "but it is a question of making the enforcement more workable."

Asserting that the treasury's business was to manage the nation's finances, Mellon said he "knew of no reason why the treasury should be charged with enforcing an unrelated penal statute."

Mellon Noncommittal
Representative Igoe, Rep., Ill., and Representative Schafer, Rep., Wis., wets, cross examined the secretary at length, but were unable to find out whether he believed that prohibition has had a "fair test."

"It is a very controversial subject," Mellon said, "and I don't see any occasion now to express my personal opinions. It is not (Continued on Page 3)

PILES POURED FOR BUILDING OF CANNERY

Pouring of concrete pile followers for the Police and Penitentiary on the Richmond inner harbor is under way by Stockheim & Son and Wm. Dattke, general contractors for the construction of the new plant.

Forms for the pile followers were moved in several days ago and the pouring of the concrete pile followers started. The arrival of the wooden piles to be used in the construction of the building have been delayed because of the rains. These piles are to be brought in on the Southern Pacific spur which will tap the center of the cannery. The spur track has not been finished due to the rainy weather. Workers are at the job, however, and hope to have the track completed in record time.

The entire structure will be built on the wooden piles which are to be capped by the concrete pile followers which are now being built.

It is expected that a large staff of builders will be put to work as soon as conditions make it possible to transport the building material to the site. The contract for the construction calls for the completion of the plant not later than May 1. Installation of canning machinery will follow immediately.

Officials of the company hope to have the plant in operation to take care of a portion of this year's pack of vegetables and fruits. Between 600 and 800 persons are to be employed at the plant when operations start.

CULT POISON PLOT CHARGED
LOS ANGELES, Jan. 22.—(U.P.)—An unexpected accusation that Mrs. May bids Blackburn plotted to poison her son-in-law, Samuel Rizzio, with the aid of her followers in "The Royal Arms of the Great Eleven" cult was made today at the high priestess' trial on grand theft charges.

The alleged plan was told in superior court by Mrs. Eleanor Sandrosky, pharmacist, who claims that she and her husband were defrauded of $750 by Mrs. Blackburn.

"The Angel Gabriel has commanded that I kill Sammy Rizzio," Mrs. Sandrosky quoted the priestess as saying, "and I want you to supply the poison. After he is dead, I will come back to life because I will resurrect him after I publish my book, 'The Great Sixth Seal.'"

Rizzio was the first husband of Mrs. Blackburn's daughter, Mrs. Ruth Welland. He has been missing for several years.

Mrs. Sandrosky said that Mrs. Blackburn's mother and father were present during the conversation.

Search Ends For Plane Victims

SANTA MONICA, Jan. 22.—(U.P.)—The bodies of the ten men who perished when two motion picture camera planes crashed off Point Vicente, may never be recovered, the search having been abandoned today.

A part of the second plane was raised today, but when no bodies were located in the craft, the Fox studio ordered the search ended. The bodies of Kenneth Hawks, director and four others were recovered just after the crash and when the first plane was found.

10 KILLED IN SCHOOL BUS CRASH

BEREA, Ohio, Jan. 22.—(U.P.)—A school bus, carrying ten children, the oldest aged 14 rolled onto Sheldon Crossing today just as a train of the New York Central came roaring through the rain and sleet. The engine caught the bus squarely, carrying wreckage far down the track and killing nine of the 10 children and the driver of the bus.

The accident occurred on the anniversary of just such an accident at Bellevue, Ohio, when 17 children were killed and brought to 112 the total of Ohio's major grade crossing accidents since 1922.

The bus gathered up the children of Brook Park village after breakfast this morning and left ten of them at the high school, with the younger children it started to the elementary school. It was a nasty morning and the cold froze the moisture on the windshield and windows of the bus.

Apparently the driver neither saw nor heard the oncoming train. The crossing is unguarded.

Peter Ovak, a truckman, working down the tracks below the crossing, heard the screech of the train as brakes were applied and then a crash. He and the train crew summoned help but when ambulances arrived all but three of the 10 children and the driver of the bus were dead. Two others died on the way to a hospital.

The dead were:
William Pastorek, 10.
Jack Walter, 12.
Juanita Walker, 9.
Rita Zielinski, 8.
Vincent Zielinski, 6.
Dorothy Zielinski, 6.
Vernon Davidson, 7.
William Davidson, 14.
Evelyn Kaitenbach, 7.
John Taylor, aged 34, driver.

Girl Sole Survivor
Survivors with the ambulances found a tragic scene. "They were all grown up and scattered with school books and lunchboxes. Only Mary Davidson, aged 9, was left to tell the story.

"I was sitting right up in front talking," she told her nurse later today. "I think there must have been two trains. Anyway, we stopped while one went past. Then we started again. Then the bus broke all to pieces."

Superintendent Of Mills Field Quits

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 22.—(U.P.)—Resignation of Bartlett Stephens from superintendency of Mills Field, municipal airport, to be effective tonight, was received by the county board of supervisors today. REALTIVE STRENGTH TO BE PLEA OF AMERICAN NAVAL DELEGATES

LONDON, Jan. 22.—(U.P.)—The United States will have before the entire work of the London conference be based on the doctrine that naval needs are relative, the United Press learned tonight.

That will be the keynote which Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson, chief American delegate will sound at the first meeting of the committee of the whole at St. James Palace Thursday. Stimson will urge that figures be kept out of early discussions believing that an agreement on his theory of "relativity" will clear the air and permit the conference to use the Kipling anti-war pact as a starting point.

Stimson proposes to argue as follows:

The nations have signed the anti-war treaty, giving reasonable assurance there will not be armed conflict. Now, then, can any nation say outright it needs so many warships of such and such tonnage? Will not each nation estimate of naval needs be reduced as others are lowered?

If Stimson's doctrine of relative strength is accepted he believes a big start will have been made toward reduced armament. The American delegates understand, however, that the British will insist from the beginning on a minimum of 50 cruisers.

'BAD BABIES' NOT SO BAD GRAND JURY QUIZ LOOMS

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 22.—(U.P.)—A police court jury decided here today that "Bad Babies," a stage play, was not so bad but John P. Murphy, foreman of the county grand jury, disagreed.

Shortly after cast of the play had been acquitted in police court at completion of trial on charges of presenting an improper show, Murphy conferred with Mathew Brady, district attorney, about a special session of the grand jury.

Neither would comment on expected action they planned to take after their meeting, but Murphy had some remarks to make regarding what he thought of the play.

"We propose to rid San Francisco of improper and salacious plays," he said. "If a show isn't good enough for Los Angeles, it certainly isn't good enough for San Francisco."

The production under discussion opened in Los Angeles and the cast was also arrested there. Murphy said members of the grand jury morals committee had reported adversely on "Bad Babies" after seeing the show, and that other members were eager to act.

The jury had delayed action, he said to see how the police court case came out. He attended the morning session of the trial and, upon leaving, said there was no longer any occasion for him to postpone action.

Murphy pointed out that efforts to learn the character of the play by questions and reading the lines was, in his opinion, futile. His main objection that implications made by actors on the stage could not be proved during reading of the lines in court.

Biffle Scored In New Trial

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 22.—(U.P.)—New testimony designed to refute the statement of Earl Biffle, who testified in a manner which indicated she planned to "frame" Alexander Pantages, was called today in Biffle's trial on a perjury charge.

Biffle testified in the trial which resulted in Pantages' conviction of attacking Miss Pringle, that he heard her talking with Nicholas Dunaev, her manager, just before she entered the building where the alleged assault occurred.

Theodore Gottsdanker, an attorney, declared on the stand today that Dunaev was in his office at the time Biffle said the alleged conversation took place.

Joseph Canepa, 59, 209 South Seventeenth street will appear before Police Judge C. A. Odell this morning on a misdemeanor charge.

ICE GORGE PERILS MANY

CHICAGO, Jan. 22.—(U.P.)—Far up in the MacKenzie River valley of the Canadian northwest Old Man Winter tonight was keeping up a constant tattoo on his weather drum, sending one cold wave after another booming to the south in a fanfare of death and suffering.

In the grip of sub-zero weather for the past several days, the middlewest made ready for more frigid temperatures which were expected to keep thermometers far below normal for the rest of the week.

The coldest spot in the United States was Charles City, in the center of Iowa's prosperous corn belt. It was 30 degrees below zero there, 28 below at La Crosse, Wis., and 22 below at Lander, Wyo.

The mercury sank to eight below in Chicago and was expected to stay down near the thermometer bulb for several days to come.

Suffering among the poor was intense. Police stations were crowded with vagrants while charitable organizations were swamped.

The severe and continued cold worked unusual hardships in flood stricken southern Indiana and eastern Arkansas.

The Wabash river, which had started to recede after last week's disastrous floods, was jammed with a large ice gorge south of Vincennes, Ind. The gorge hourly grew larger while ever spreading back waters sloshed over thousands of acres and sent scores fleeing from their homes.

Should the gorge suddenly crumble it was feared that bridges and towns for almost 100 miles downstream would be ruined by the shattering impact of the ice blocks racing south with the released torrent.

Lifeline cold hampered efforts to rescue more than 500 persons marooned by the floods in Arkansas.

Lasky, Sister Get Death Notes

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 22.—(U.P.)—A death note received by Mrs. Lasky, sister of Nicholas Dunaev, her manager, just before she entered the building where the alleged assault occurred.

Theodore Gottsdanker, an attorney, declared on the stand today that Dunaev was in his office at the time Biffle said the alleged conversation took place.

Both the notes are in custody of Hollywood police, but the officers planned to do nothing in the matter unless there is a repetition of the threat.

NO DAMAGE REPORTED IN S. F.
SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 22.—(U.P.)—The San Francisco bay region had a slight earthquake tonight.

Only about one out of every five persons in the region noted the shake—a check of cities and towns in the district indicated.

The disturbance occurred at 8:30 p. m. No damage was reported.

RECORDING AT SANTA CLARA SLIGHT
SANTA CLARA, Jan. 22.—(U.P.)—Experts of the seismographs here had to scan the instruments carefully tonight to determine that there had been an earthquake in the San Francisco bay region about 40 miles north of Santa Clara at 8:30 p. m.

They said the records showed the disturbance had been no greater than that which would be caused by a truck passing by a building.

The instruments had been examined after 8:30 p. m. but the indications of an earthquake had been so small it had not been noticed. A later examination following information of the tremor revealed it.

QUAKE REGISTERED AT CALIFORNIA
BERKELEY, Jan. 22.—(U.P.)—An earth tremor which centered a mile or two south of the University of California campus here registered at 8:24 tonight on the institution's seismograph. It lasted about 30 seconds and was very slight.

Girl Fined $55 For Speeding

Miss Margaret Myers, 610 Pennassus avenue, San Francisco, was fined $55 by Justice of the Peace Arthur A. Strom when she appeared yesterday on a charge of speeding 60 miles an hour.

Miss Myers was arrested by State Traffic Officer Charles Nissen on the state highway near here several days ago. She admitted that she never had an operator's license, Nissen reported.

$40 IN CASH LEFT BY THIEVES

Loot valued at $1263.35 was taken from the J. C. Penney store Seventh street and Macdonald avenue early Tuesday night while the thieves were forced to abandon 52 silk dresses and other articles which they had apparently intended to include in their loot. The cash register, which contained $40 in cash was overlooked by the thieves.

According to Chief of Police Dan Cox, and M. E. Hazelton, manager of the store, the thief or thieves apparently hid in some portion of the store when it was locked up at the close of business Tuesday afternoon.

Officers making their rounds at 11 o'clock Tuesday night discovered the rear door of the building unlocked and an investigation was immediately launched under the direction of Chief Cox.

The extent of the robbery was not determined until several hours of investigation and the exact figure of the loot was not determined until a late hour last night after an inventory of the establishment had been made.

Loot Taken
The loot included:
32 men's suits $608.
19 men's overcoats $260.
2 men's leather coats $17.
6 women's woolen coats $122.
42 women's silk dresses $138.35.
3 women's silk blouses $18.
20 men's pairs of trousers $75.
Although the thieves did overlook the $40 in the store cash register they did take pains to remove $9 in pennies and nickels from the cash drawer in the office.

Thieves Scared Away
That the thieves were scared away from their looting is evidenced by the fact that 52 silk dresses had been wrapped into a package and left lying by the back door. Several men's leather coats and other articles were also found beside the dresses.

Both Hazelton and Cox expressed the opinion last night that the thieves entered the store during the shopping hours and hid in some portion of the store. Later when the crowds on the streets had diminished it is believed a confederate backed a truck or large car to the back door of the store and the clothing was loaded.

The back door of the store was both locked and barred by a large cross bar, both of which, however, were removed from the inside of the store.

According to Chief Cox, this is the third Penney store to be robbed in the bay regions in recent months. In each case the thieves worked in a manner similar to the one here, authorities reported. Police are reported to be working on a number of clues.

AVOID THAT FUTURE SHADOW*
By refraining from over-indulgence, if you would maintain the modern figure of fashion

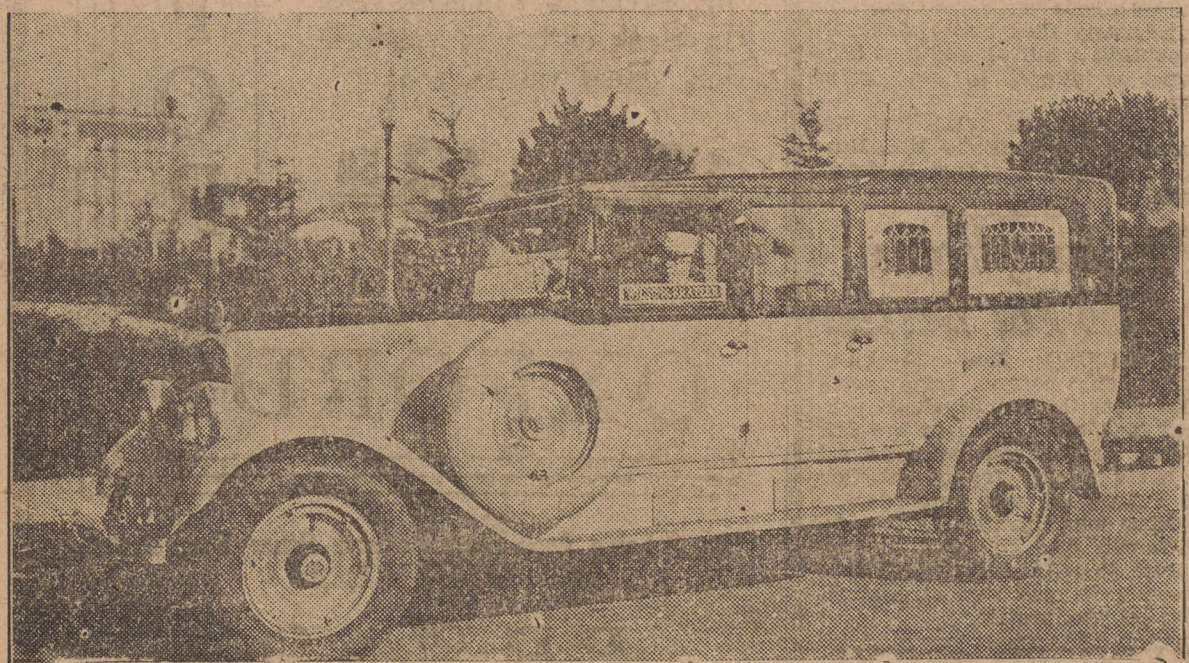

The bewitching charm of soft, flattering curves :: the lure of a graceful, modern figure :: don't spoil it by permitting your eyes to be bigger than your stomach. Be moderate—be moderate in all things, even in smoking. Eat healthfully but not immoderately. Over-indulgence is not commendable—when tempted to over-indulge, when your eyes are bigger than your stomach, reach for a Lucky Strike instead. Coming events cast their shadows before. Avoid that future shadow by avoiding over-indulgence if you would maintain that modern, enchantingly-rounded figure.

Lucky Strike, the finest Cigarette you ever smoked, made of the finest tobacco—The Cream of the Crop—"IT'S TOASTED." Every one knows that heat purifies and so "TOASTING" not only removes impurities but adds to the flavor and improves the taste.

"It's toasted"

*Be Moderate!... Don't jeopardize the modern form by drastic diets, harmful reducing girdles, fake reducing tablets or other quack "anti-fat" remedies condemned by the Medical profession! Millions of dollars each year are wasted on these ridiculous and dangerous nostrums. Be Sensible! Be Moderate! We do not represent that smoking Lucky Strike Cigarettes will bring modern figures or cause the reduction of flesh. We do declare that when tempted to do yourself too well, if you will "Reach for a Lucky" instead, you will thus avoid over-indulgence in things that cause excess weight and, by avoiding over-indulgence, maintain a modern, graceful form.

'NIGHT PARADE' REVIEW OF GLAMOR

"Like listening-in on the night life of the Great White Way." That's what critics and motion picture audiences say of Radio Pictures' dramatic all-talking special "Night Parade" coming to the Fox-California theater today.

The "ear of the world," otherwise the microphone, has taken its ally, the camera, and has gone underneath the tinsel and trickery of Broadway to bring gripping drama to the sound screen.

"Night Parade" is a succession of thrills, plots, white-hot love, burning a romance, and an attempt to break a father's heart through bringing disgrace to the son who he and the world had learned to idolize.

Trevor-Gulliver featured Hugh Trevor and Dorothy Gulliver prove that romance still lives, despite the efforts of Aileen Pringle and Robert Ellis to pull a popular idol from the pedestal. Lloyd Ingraham enacts the father and Lee Shumway gives a convincing performance as the sports writer who appoints himself a committee of one to see that the truth is drawn from the maelstrom of a boy's reputation and a father's devotion.

"Night Parade" was written by George Abbott, Ted Parmore and Hyatt Dabb. It was produced under the direction of Mal St. Clair, recognized as one of the screen's leading directors.

"Night Parade" has given the screen many productions based on "what counts" as being "dark," but "Night Parade" is considered the best thing he has ever done. He has gone into the teeming tumult of Manhattan's Broadway and given to the eyes and ears of motion picture fans a story and treatment that ring true.

Lloyd Hamilton in a talking comedy "Toot Sweet" is also on the program.

Plaintiff Wins
Furniture Suit
In Justice Court

A decision in favor of the plaintiff was handed down by Justice of the Peace Arthur Albion yesterday in a suit involving 300 articles of furniture, once the property of James Williams, colored, of north Richmond.

When Williams died, according to court records, he left a will bequeathing his furniture to Miss Nellie Watson.

Two years before his death he had given the furniture to Miss Cora B. Harrison, a neighbor.

Miss Watson took possession of the furniture and Miss Harrison immediately filed suit against her, producing a bill of sale that Williams is alleged to have given her.

Judge Alstrom ruled that the furniture was a gift to Miss Harrison and a gift cannot be taken back.

Conditions In Philippines Told Debators

Present conditions in the Philippines were described yesterday at a meeting of the Richmond Union High School Debating club by T. W. Wason, Filipino student now attending the local school. Wason stated that civilization has now almost completely driven out the old tribal customs, and that the government of the Philippines is largely run by Filipinos with American education. Wason believes that the islands will soon receive their independence.

Plans were laid at last night's meeting for a party to be held by the club during the next month. Nick Begovich was appointed as chairman of the entertainment committee for the affair. The other members of the committee are Betty Jackson and Lois Hutchinson.

A debate will be held at next week's meeting of the club on the topic "Resolved—That the Cabinet Form of Government Should Be Adopted." The affirmative will be supported by J. A. Vincent and Nick Begovich, while Fred Oshima and Betty Jackson will argue negatively.

Following last night's meeting refreshments were served. The refreshments were provided by Carroll Fredericks and Gladys Nunn, faculty advisers of the debating club.

Mrs. Peralta
Kin Of Early
Pioneer Dies

CONCORD, Jan. 22.—Mrs. Aca Peralta, 82, the last of the daughters of the dons died in her Concord home last night, where she has resided since 1848.

Mrs. Peralta was born in Concord, the daughter of Esdras Sisson, one of the Spanish Dons who settled in Contra Costa county long before the gold rush. She has lived here all her life.

"Todos Santos" (All Saints) as Concord was known, grew about the Sisson homestead, where Mrs. Peralta lived.

Death was due to a general breaking down under the ravages of time, and at 6 o'clock last night, the last daughter of the Dons breathed her last.

Rev. A. J. Heneghan, pastor of the St. John's Catholic church at El Cerrito, left yesterday for Santa Rosa to assume the pastorate of St. Rose's church.

Testifying to the respect in which Rev. Heneghan was held in this community, several of his parishioners and friends presented him with a purse recently.

His new pastorate is one of the largest parishes in Sonoma county. Heneghan will also have charge of the establishment of a parochial school.

Rev. Heneghan came to El Cerrito four and one-half years ago from San Francisco, where he was pastor of St. Peter's church. During his sojourn in Richmond, he was the leading factor in the construction of the fine new church building on San Pablo avenue near Potrero street.

Rev. Casey of Newark will assume Heneghan's duties in El Cerrito.

The five areas are:

Area No. 1—Richmond and El Cerrito.

Area No. 2—San Pablo, Giant and adjacent territory.

Area No. 3—Crockett, Valona, Hercules, Pinole and Rodeo.

Non-Suit Denied In Ledgerwood Case

MARTINEZ, Jan. 22.—Suit for $11,000 damages filed by Mrs. Olive Ledgerwood against her son, Albert, was continued today after the court granted permission to the plaintiff to amend her complaint so it would charge gross negligence to her son in his operation of the car.

On the grounds that the complaint did not comply with the new state law covering suits filed by a guest in an automobile, the defense sought a non-suit order from the court.

BRITISH SAMOA GUARDED BY TROOPS

APIA, BRITISH SAMOA, Jan. 22.—Delayed by Censor-UP—Business was paralyzed, villages were destroyed and armed guards were placed at strategic points throughout British Samoa today as symbols of the breach between Samoans and authorities of the New Zealand mandate.

Meanwhile, at an inquest proceeding at Apia, evidence that seemed likely to inspire further bitterness on the part of the Samoans was developed.

Authorities were inquiring into the fatal episode of Dec. 28 when eight Samoans, including High Chief Tamasese, and British policeman Ahmed Abraham were killed.

Chief Shot
Two witnesses disclosed before Judge Laxford that Tamasese was standing alone holding his hands above his head and calling upon the people to be calm when he was shot down and fatally wounded.

Other testimony indicated that three Samoans who went to the assistance of Tamasese were also shot down.

The December battle occurred when thousands of the Mau, members of the native council, gathered for a demonstration welcoming home one of their number who was returning to Samoa after serving a sentence of banishment.

Chief Arrested
Tullaleahfano, 84-year old chief who was wounded in the December shooting was arrested at the village of Leauvua and several other arrests were made that further embittered the people.

The government, with armed forces at hand from the cruiser Dunedin, has been unable to prevent general evasion of some emergency regulations.

The first order was for Chief Tullaleahfano and 57 other leaders to meet with Col. S. Allen, administrator.

Arrest Asked
The second called for the arrest of Chief Faumuina and 19 others on various charges.

The people were requested to disperse from certain districts to native villages in a third order.

The first orders were not complied with. Villages of Lepia and Vailmosa, the latter Tamasese's home, and others on the north coast have been practically deserted by Samoan men who took to the mountain ranges.

Marines Land
Armed marines from the cruiser Dunedin were stationed at various points on the north coast. An airplane has been engaged in scouting the island.

The Mau was branded as a seditious organization. It represents about 90 percent of the Samoans and includes many whites.

Violence does not appear to be contemplated by the natives and even if they wished it was believed they could not resist or defy the authorities effectively.

Richmond Preparing for Big Building Activity New Industries To Increase Homes

Activity Certain Sign That Richmond Is Growing

The rat-tat-tat of the builder's hammer has already started on what will probably be Richmond's banner building year in its short but interesting history.

Everywhere are signs of the activity of preparing for the 3000 odd families of workers to be added to the city's payroll during the next twelve months.

Homes must be built to take care of this huge army which will sweep down upon this city starting with the completion of the new cannery on the inner harbor early this spring. Work on the cannery itself is already under way and will be rushed to completion.

Hundreds of builders will be employed in the construction of this half million dollar plant.

Then before the last nail is driven in this structure, work will be under way on the new Ford assembling plant.

Preliminary announcements state that from 300 to 400 members of the building trades will be employed in the huge Ford project.

And above all of these, no doubt will be the housing problem of this vast army of workers.

An increase in the building of homes has already been noted at the building inspector's office. Plans of prospective builders are flooding the place and during the last week homes have been started at the rate of one a day.

But even this number will not take care of the large number of families to be added to Richmond's population before the close of the year. All of these must find dwellings.

There is plenty of room for Richmond to grow. Five years from today the story may be different. With the plan to have all Richmond workers live in Richmond gaining added impetus, it is apparent that building will see one of its most prosperous years in the history of the city.

CARS PREPARE FOR BIG RACE

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 22.—Just as the annual Indianapolis Grand Prize 500-mile classic race is expected to be the crucible in which stock specifications of commercial cars here after will be tested, so has the American Legion speedway here (Old Ascot) become the "test tube" for the Indianapolis race.

This is agreed by racing experts and followers of the professional speedway racing game who are gathered here right now for a series of bi-weekly speed events scheduled at veterans' track.

They point to the fact that such unique cars as Bill White's 4-cylinder Scofield-Miller, scheduled for appearance at Indianapolis, are to be given tryouts in real races at Ascot.

Others, too, ranging from four to six-cylinder cars, are being tested on the 5-6 mile dirt speedway here.

New Types Tested

Just as new types of cars are being tested here, so are various makes of oil, gasoline, carburetors, tires and the other essentials to high speed and victory on the "roaring bowl." The fact that so many of the leading pilots at Ascot are using Richfield and Richlube, it is pointed out, indicates those famous racing products will be in the tanks and crankcases of some of the fastest cars when the starting flag drops next Memorial Day at the Hoosier metropolis.

Fred Wagner, veteran starter of the speedways, colorful in his checkered "starting flag" stockings and knickers, is among those present since the races here are Contest Board sanctioned events. He will start all Ascot races this year, it is declared.

Another national racing figure, aside from professional pilots, who is seen regularly at the track, is Big Ed Wintergust, veteran racing expert—a "railbird" who has been at the pit side of every important speed event within the last decade.

Commenting on information given out by "Pop" Meyers, manager of the Indianapolis speedway, in a letter he just received, Wintergust forecast today that at Indianapolis, in addition to many stock or semi-stock American cars, there will be a big batch of colorful foreign entries.

"One of the interesting features of the coming of notable foreign drivers," said Wintergust, "is that the fame of California's racing gasoline has so spread that some of the foreigners likely, on advice of leading Yankee pilots, will leave the starting line with Richfield in their tanks."

Bill White, sometimes known as "William S." widely known Hollywood race booster and man-about-town, has selected Shorty Cannon to pilot his car at Indianapolis. And, according to Wintergust, Mr. White has decided on Richfield gasoline for his four-cylinder sensation's entrance at Indianapolis.

All race followers, it is agreed, are looking forward to Indianapolis with a great deal of anticipation in view of the fact that on Memorial Day the limitations of displacement will be pulled off. For that reason, the racing cars, for the first time in many years, will more nearly approximate stock models as are manufactured and sold to the motoring public.

Secret Panel Aids Burglar

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (U.P.)—The door of a room in Drayton Hall, Harvard dormitory, has a secret panel. Using this, a burglar got into the room recently and walked off with clothing valued at $100, the property of James Costello, a student.

National Rifle Club To Elect On February 26

Election of officers of the Richmond National Rifle club, was again postponed at a meeting in the Woodmen hall last night. Election is now scheduled for Feb. 26.

The club was visited last night by R. C. Thomas and C. S. Creel of Emeryville.

The visitors are both members of the Emeryville post 1010 V. F. W. and are planning organization of an Emeryville rifle club.

Speeding, Muffler Lack Costs $25

Charged with speeding 55 miles an hour and driving without a muffler, Robert S. Armstrong of Orinda was fined $25 by Justice of the Peace Arthur Alstrom yesterday.

Thomas E. Davidson, 1837 Thirty-ninth avenue, Oakland, was fined $5 for using a cutout on his muffler.

High Cagers Emeryville To Tangle Friday

In spite of their setbacks at the hands of the Alameda high school cagers Tuesday, the Richmond Union high school varsity and B quintets will once more enter the fray with a fair hope of victory Friday afternoon, when they will tangle with the Emeryville high school cagers in the Emeryville gymnasium.

The local varsity athletes showed considerable improvement in the Alameda clash and ought not to have a great deal of trouble with Emeryville. Although the Richmond B's were badly defeated by the Alamedans, there is still hope in the hearts of Richmond rooters that the local lightweights will still prove themselves one of the best Alameda County Athletic League squads.

The B's started out the favorites over the local varsity boys, but the competition is quickly getting closer between the two Richmond Union high school fives.

The B game will start at 8:30 o'clock Friday, and will be followed at 5:15 o'clock by the varsity battle.

Y. M. D. Cagers Defeat Y. M. I. Of Berkeley

After trailing by a score of 10 to 3 at the end of the first quarter, the Richmond Y. M. D. basketball team last night defeated the Berkeley Y. M. I. team by a score of 20 to 19 at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium.

At the start of the game it appeared as if the local boys were doomed to a severe drubbing at the hands of the Berkeley team. With the start of the second quarter, however, the reserves were thrown in and a determined drive was started on the Y. M. I. goal.

Hillier was high point man for the locals with 7 points while J. Nelson starred for the Berkeley team with 6.

The lineup: Y. M. D. 20—Fowell, Brown, 2 Hillier, 7, Santel's 5 forwards; Johnson 5, Moore, Back centers; Livermore, Abbott, Crisler, Buchanan guards.

Y. M. I. 19—Smith 1, E. Nelson, 5, forwards; J. Nelson 6 center; McDermott 5, H. Nelson 2 guards.

Portland Cold Wave Unbroken

PORTLAND, Jan. 22.—UP—Prospects of light snow tonight dashed hopes of residents of the Pacific northwest that the non-stop cold wave had spent itself.

Sleet and snow fell over a wide area this afternoon but the weather man gave a measure of assurance by adding that he did not believe there would be another heavy snowfall. The northwest, however, was dubious after more than two weeks of piercing weather.

Even fuel dealers hoped for a letup in the cold wave since mills have been forced to close down and orders for fuel cannot be filled.

Another Home Will Be Built

Another new home was added to Richmond's fast growing list yesterday when C. E. Nelson obtained a permit to build a cottage and garage on Thirty-seventh street between Roosevelt and Clinton avenues.

The permit issued yesterday in the office of A. J. Hurley, city building inspector was for $3800.

C. E. Scott also obtained a building permit yesterday to erect a tract office on Tenth street between Cutting boulevard and Peter avenue. The building is to cost $50.

Nightgown Walker Arrives Home With Suit Of Clothing

MARTINEZ, Jan. 22.—Samuel Zeitz, 38, of Knighton, who walked out of the county hospital here at 3 o'clock yesterday morning, was located this afternoon at his ranch, seven miles from Knighton.

Zeitz upon taking "french leave" from the hospital where he was under observation for a suspected mental disorder, was attired only in his night gown. When he arrived home, his wife stated he was fully clothed, although no one knows where he found them. He will remain at his home for the present.

COLLEGE BOYS GET SCOLDING IN L. A.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 22.—(U.P.)—Theoretically, at least, Los Angeles today was made safe for fraternity and sorority pledges, those willing young people who are just turning collegiate.

"This," said city prosecutor Lloyd Nix, "must stop. Yes sir, it must stop."

And by "this" he meant that striped poles are not to be taken away from barber shops, spoons from restaurants and towels from hotels.

Frats Surprised They're missing," Nix declared, with an admonitory wagging of the finger. "And where do they go? Now, I ask you."

Forty fraternity and sorority heads from the University of Southern California looked blank. So did Francis Bacon, Dean of Men. They meant their faces to register that they didn't know.

"I've got a hunch that the frats and sororities are responsible," Nix delivered his telling blow.

"And, I say, it's got to stop."

Merchants Protest It seems that the merchants in the neighborhood of the University of Southern California and the University of California at Los Angeles are becoming angry.

So Nix delivered an ultimatum today. Barber poles, cafe silverware, napkins, hotel towels, encyclopedias and other bric-a-brac must be left to blush in their native haunts.

"A young man or a young woman comes to school," Nix said, "and what is he told to do? He is told to go out and bring back some assorted barber poles, three towels with a red border, two with a blue stripe, six volumes of the encyclopedia and three soup spoons."

Do Something "It may all be in a spirit of exuberance but it costs the merchants money."

Expressions of horror contorted the faces of his audience.

"Something has to be done about this and do you know what?" Nix asked. There was no answer.

Still Waiting "Well, I want you to go back to the campus and take an inventory."

"I'm waiting for you to find out just what appropriations have been added to the belongings of each fraternity and sorority house on the U. S. C. campus and to return them."

Mr. Nix was still waiting tonight.

Saints Defeated By Bear Cagers

OAKLAND, Jan. 22.—UP—Breaking a 28 to 28 tie in the last five minutes, the University of California basketball team defeated St. Mary's 36 to 34, here tonight. The Bears had led the Saints at half time 17 to 12.

"Butch" Simas of St. Mary's and Tripp of California were high point men with 15 each.

Hayward Five Unable To Play Cage Game Here

Hayward basketball squad will be unable to appear in Richmond tonight for its scheduled game with an all-star Richmond aggregation according to an announcement made by W. L. "Doc" Seawright last night.

Ned Kay, coach of the Hayward five reported that his team was unable to be present because of a league game.

So far, Seawright stated he has lined up a game between the Nationals and the Mastercraft Roofers at seven o'clock and between the Union Oleum team and the Santa Fe squad at eight o'clock.

Seawright expressed hope last night that he will be able to arrange to have an out-of-town team play here tonight.

The games will be at the high school gymnasium.

Y. L. I. Cagers Defeated By Oakland Girls

Richmond Y. L. I. last night dropped a hard fought basketball game to the Oakland institute No. 15 in the Technical high school Girls' gymnasium at Oakland.

Playing was fast throughout, but the local institute could not catch up with the Oaklanders.

Members of the Richmond Y. L. I. basketball team who played last night were: Cecilia Desmond, Helen Maloney, Irma Chatterton, Louise Novarini, May Berk, Alice Maloney, Mary Gately, Agnes Campbell and Helen Gately.

The local team will attempt to retrieve its lost laurels when it tangles with Geeson institute of Oakland on Jan. 31.

Lewis Wins In L. A. Matches

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 22.—UP—Everett Marshall, young Washington wrestler completely outclassed the veteran Stanley Stasiak and easily won here tonight. The first bout lasted 21 minutes and 22 seconds and ended when Marshall got his "airplane spin" into action.

Stasiak came back in a dazed condition and Marshall required but five minutes to again apply the finishing touches.

Ed "Strangler" Lewis, former heavyweight champion, defeated Dick Daviscourt in two out of three falls. Daviscourt took the first fall but Lewis came back to win the second and third.

Duffy Loses To Dix At Oakland

OAKLAND, Jan. 22.—UP—The referee disqualified Jimmy Duffy, local welterweight in the tenth and final round of his bout with Madison Dix of Seattle here tonight and awarded the verdict to Dix because Duffy was hitting while coming out of a break.

Other results:

Joey Roberts defeated Billy West six; Al Olsen defeated Bert Myers six; Joe Simas and Johnny Lawson drew, four and Jack Kirk defeated Joe Adrianon, in four.

AL ESPINOSA, SMITH TIE IN PLAY

AGUA CALIENTE, Jan. 22.—UP—A capricious windstorm took a hand in the $25,000 Agua Caliente open golf tournament today and proved a big factor in shifting the field of players to place Horton Smith, Joplin, Mo. and Al Espinosa, Chicago, in a tie for first place.

Smith and Espinosa will enter the final 18-hole round Thursday all even up at 224, but right behind them at 225 will be three other professionals—Olin Dutra, Los Angeles; Al Watrous, Detroit, and Charlie Gust, Los Angeles.

Espinosa stepped from third place into a tie for first by shooting a 76 for the day's 18 holes. Although this score was five over par, it was low for the day and was equalled only by one player—John Dalton, an amateur.

Wind Impartial

The wind was impartial in the manner in which it waited balls from direct flight toward the greens into rough patches at the edge of the fairways or into bunkers and sand traps. Fortune hung on every shot from the tee and the wind even caused putts to scamper around the cups in crazy fashion.

MacDonald Smith, the Scotchman from Great Neck, L. I., dropped a bit in the list when he took a 79 and wound up with 227 a class the shared with Gene Sarazen, New York, and Mortie Dutra, Tacoma, both of whom made 79 for the day.

Johnny Farrell, of Florida was a step ahead of MacDonald and his two playmates by virtue of a 77 and a total of 226, while Henry Gulci, Bridgeport Conn., Ed Dudley, Wilmington, Del., and George Von Elm, Detroit, sagged a step in the rear with 228. Von Elm was the only non-money player threatening to cut in among the leaders.

The complexion of the first ten changed but little from that of yesterday's when 36 holes were ended.

Round Today

Smith and Espinosa managed to better themselves a little but the front ranks Thursday will show about the same faces which featured Monday's play under far better golfing conditions.

Walter Hagen, holder of the British Open tournament, fell further to the rear today with an 80 and a total of 233. Hagen continued to share the attention of the gallery, however, and his threesome drew a goodly collection of fans.

The gallery contained more than 1000 persons today, the largest since the tournament started. Horton Smith, due to the great game he has played during the Agua Caliente meet as well as in earlier southern California tournaments this winter, was the big shot as far as a following was concerned.

Liver, Gall Bladder and Stomach Trouble Relieved

2946 Morgan Ave. Oakland, Cal. Nov. 19, 1929.

DEAR MR. FONG: I am writing this letter to express my gratitude for the splendid results and benefits I have received from the use of the Chinese Herbs prepared by you.

I had a complication of Liver, Gall Bladder, and Stomach trouble with sharp, stabbing pains in the lower right side of my abdomen.

The region of my Liver was exceedingly sore and tender; so much so that even loose clothing became irritating and uncomfortable. My Stomach was also very sore to the touch and felt as if there were a lump the size of an egg in it. After meals, food which was very sour and burned in throat, was returned to the mouth.

This condition steadily became worse over a period of a year. During this time, I was treated by two doctors without any appreciable results. Both decided that an operation was necessary.

By good fortune, I came into contact with a man whom you had treated successfully for an Ulcerated Stomach, and he strongly urged me to take your treatment. This I did.

Results were noticeable the very first week, and now, after six weeks, I am entirely free from the terrible stabbing pains and distress which had plagued me. My digestion is good. The old feeling of lassitude has completely disappeared and I feel much brighter and more energetic than I have for years.

I am most happy to strongly recommend the herbs of the Fong Wan Herb Co. as prepared by you.

Wishing you unbounded success, and again thanking you for what you have done for me, I am, Very cordially yours, CYRIL MAW.

'GENERAL CRACK'

BY GEORGE PREEDY

Copyright 1928 by Dodd Mead & Co., Inc.

The Warner Bros. & Vitaphone production starring John Barrymore, is based on this novel.

LOVELY PRINCESS ELEANORA of Anhalt-Dessau, is first engaged to King Leopold, Elector of Saxaria, and claimant to the emperorship of the Holy Roman Empire. State necessity forces him, reluctantly, to renounce her in favor of General Crack, soldier of fortune and invincible strategist, without whom he cannot make headway against the Allies. Leopold and Eleanora love one another, and have met romantically in the woods. Crack is in love with her, against his better judgment. Crack marries her.

"Madame, I have married her."
"Perforce," the Duchess smiled wryly.

"Madame, I have your meaning—but men do not marry where they despise."

"I have known it done—where pride was high enough and desire not enough—fling down the fee and snatch the gratification! How will you consider Eleanora next year? She has neither brains nor wit to match with yours, Monseigneur."

Christian did not reply; he was gazing past the Duchess at the cabinet of silvered porcelain, where the last lingering rays of the sun gave a lustre-like life to the figures.

"Let this fellow Gabor come to me," he said. "I have at least this half-hour to myself."

Gabor entered.

"Well, Sir, what do you mean by this intrusion?" he asked, masking his weakness with defiance.

And Gabor, bowing low, murmured:

"What does Your Majesty mean by receiving me?"

Leopold bit his full under lip. If this was insolence or an insidious ploy he could not tell; he was baffled by this man's depraved and sinister presence.

"I should not be seeing you at all," murmured Leopold; "but Hensel, if it seems, has taken you into his employ; I do not know what you play, Prince Gabor, but I am pausing, doubtful as to what to say, wishing to evade the point and yet impatient to come to it."

"That part I play, Sir, though a general one to you, is no matter now," Gabor said, blunt with too much ostentation of deference and humility. "But I have been chosen by a lady as her messenger."

Leopold blushed; the uncontrollable blood stormed his face; he put his hand to his hot cheeks, vexed to the heart with himself.

"What lady?" he asked, and rose, pulling at the tumbled cambric at his throat.

"Your Majesty will know the lady; it is Princess Eleanora of Anhalt-Dessau, now Prince Christian's wife."

"And it is impossible," murmured Leopold, in a fascinated tone, "that she is sending messages to me."

"Not a message, but a letter," smiled Gabor; and produced a long, slim envelope from his pocket, carefully sealed.

Leopold could see nothing else in the room but this; and Gabor delicately laid it on a table, beside the chocolate pot and the flowered Meissen porcelain.

Leopold, speechless, looking down, saw the familiar arms of Kuria, impressed upon the red seal, the emblem of the purple, with the goat's head for crest, and the anagram "C.R.A.C.K." which stood for "General Crack."

"You see," commented Gabor, softly, "you see, Your Majesty, that already, she is sending her hand's arms. There can be no doubt that it is indeed from her."

"I do not know her hand," murmured Leopold, faintly; and Gabor could scarcely conceal his triumph at this admission; but he had counted on that—that Leopold did not know her hand. There could, indeed, be few outside her own family who knew the writing of so young and obscure a personage as Eleanora of Anhalt-Dessau.

"Why should she send this to you?" asked Leopold, amazed.

"Her Highness," said Gabor, "is very simple, Sir; a child, almost, as you may have perceived. She chose, that day in Dursheim, to make a confidant of me. She wished to convey this letter, which contains," he suggested, did not know her hand. There could,

CEMENT DUST PROBE AGAIN ASKED

CONCORD, Jan. 22.—In response to a petition from the Concord Farm center, Contra Costa Associated last night directed its agricultural, industrial and public health committee to make a thorough and impartial investigation into the alleged Cowell cement dust nuisance in the Clayton valley.

These committees after holding hearings will submit a detailed report to the parent body, which will then determine a course of action.

Statement Made

Action of the county chamber of commerce, followed closely upon the Farm Bureau cement dust committee being advised by W. H. George, secretary and general manager of the Cowell Portland Cement company that,

"I would have no interest in this map (of the dust zone) or in presenting it to the county assessor with a request for a reduction in assessment on my property, as I know that what little lime dust that comes at times from the plant at Cowell instead of doing damage acts as a fertilizer."

To which the Farm Center has replied, through E. S. Meserole, secretary:

"Now that certain county and state officials have found it necessary to take action on account of the deplorable conditions that exist in this district and on account of this damage to the farms and to the health of the people in this infected district, we will endeavor to interest all county and state officials and civic organizations to co-operate with us to eliminate this condition which is a menace and a nuisance not only to the infected district but to the county and state in general."

"The Cowell Cement company would have us believe that the great amount of cement dust we get is a benefit and would have us grow our trees upside down to get the fertilizer on the roots and keep it off the fruit and leaves."

Bid To Meet

George has been extended an invitation to attend a meeting of the Farm Center Friday night by the secretary, which time the dust problem will be brought up.

Ranchers of the valley recently laid before County Assessor Geo. O. Meese a statement of the alleged damage to their lands and crops and obtained from him a satisfactory pledge of reductions in forthcoming assessments.

Seeking abatement of the cement dust as a nuisance, ranchers filed suit 15 years ago but were unsuccessful in their action.

Robbery Of Grill Probed

Police yesterday started investigation of the robbery of the Orpheum Grill, 509 Macdonald avenue, of $15 in cash and a small quantity of cigars.

Police reported that a rear door was forced open sometime after 2:30 yesterday morning and the thief entered the establishment.

The robbery was discovered at an early hour yesterday morning.

Judgment Of Local Court Fought By Writ

Hearing of an application for a writ of prohibition against the execution of judgment in the court of Justice of the Peace Arthur Alstrom against J. O. DeLong and his son of Oakland, was held in the court of Superior Judge T. W. Harris in Oakland yesterday.

Judge Harris stated that he will take the matter under advisement and will make his decision within a few days.

The legal entanglement arose when T. O. DeLong, of Richmond, filed suit in Judge Alstrom's court against J. O. DeLong for the sum of $235 alleged to have been due for an unpaid board bill.

Lee D. Windrem represented T. O. DeLong in the action.

When the defendants failed to appear in court, Judge Alstrom immediately declared the case defaulted to the plaintiff.

Before Judge Alstrom could issue the necessary papers levying against the property of J. O. DeLong, the latter filed suit in the superior court in Oakland asking that execution of judgment be prohibited on the grounds that Windrem failed to establish a jurisdiction of facts in the papers filed for the suit.

J. O. DeLong declares that Windrem did not state in the suit in what city, town or township the amount was payable. He also alleged that he had paid the money.

Judge Harris' decision is expected at an early date.

LEADING the march of industry in early American history, Paul Revere, founder of the Nation's first copper tolling mill, was a peace time hero as well as a patriot of the Revolution. Here is the copy of an original letter written by Robert Fulton in ordering copper for one of his early steamboats from the Boston firm of Paul Revere and Son.

WHALE, BABY ATTRACT CROWDS

"Have you seen the whale?" has become a general inquiry in Richmond and the near-by towns since the famous whale of San Clemente and its 18 foot baby whale arrived on their special car and were placed on the railroad siding at the Southern Pacific station. Few persons even those living in Seaboard cities such as Richmond have ever seen one of the gigantic monsters of the sea at close range.

The present opportunity to see one and one of the finest species of the finback variety ever exhibited has created widespread interest, especially among the students at the grammar and high schools. The whale and the baby have been perfectly preserved by the art of embalming and show no signs of the terrific battle it gave its captors.

Stretching more than 50 feet in length the massive bulk of the mother whale weighs 126,000 pounds while the baby 18 feet in length tips the scales at the 6,000 mark.

Additional interest is being given to the exhibition which is located at Sixteenth street and Macdonald avenue, by the presence of Capt. Harry S. White an old time whaler who is regaling the spectators with many scientific facts about the big mammal and his many adventures.

Captain White who yesterday had an opportunity to wander away from the ship as he calls the private glass inclosed ear and look over the city of Richmond, remarked: "You surely have a whale of a city" and continued: "and it takes a whaler with a big and little whale in charge to know it."

The constitution of the Richmond Union high school Students' association was read yesterday at a meeting of the organization by Edwin Poole, vice president of the Student body.

Committees to assist the commissioners at the local high school were announced by Bernard Follett, president of the newly-formed student council. Bruno Roveda was named chairman of the committee appointed to maintain order in the halls of the school, while Albert Simms heads the cafeteria committee which will supervise the school cafeteria.

The rally committee is headed by Woodrow Snodgrass.

The members of the halls committee are: Wade McCain, Edna Ridley, Edward Bergen, Bob Miller, Robert Reid, Raymond Fahnenholtz, Walter Bradbury, Donald Follett, Darrow Sutton, Silvia Seawright, Jane Bellegarde and Philip Carlin.

The cafeteria committee includes Ralph Shallenberger, Milton Belway and Carl Paulsen.

The members of the rally committee are: Carl Drexel and Harman Jatta.

The budget of the Students' association was officially announced yesterday by Byron Young, president. The budget for the present term is as follows: Boys' athletics, 60 percent; girls' athletics, 5 percent; entertainment, 15 percent and miscellaneous, 20 percent.

Principal B. X. Tucker advocated that a score board be purchased for the Richmond Union high school boys' gymnasium.

MELLON MUM ON DRY LAW QUESTION

Important what my opinion is." "Do you think there will be a higher degree of efficiency under the justice department?" Igoe asked.

"Yes, because there they would have all the evidence gathered by members of the bureau, and when it came to prosecution of cases, they would be better able to prepare their cases."

Schafer tried to get Mellon and Prohibition Commissioner J. M. Doran, who also appeared to endorse the proposal, to discuss industrial alcohol diversion in Illinois.

Doran May Quit

Doran was reported today to be preparing to leave the government service when and if the transfer is made by Congress. Officials would not discuss the report, although it was said Doran has received several offers from industrial alcohol manufacturers. Doran originally was a chemist in the prohibition unit.

Doran was closely questioned on his recent charges that corn sugar manufacture, not industrial alcohol diversion, was the main trouble with prohibition enforcement now. He disclosed that production of grain sugar, which is easily convertible into grain alcohol, increased from 160,000,000 pounds in 1921 to nearly a billion pounds in 1928. Seven million pounds were seized by his agents in stills in 1928, Doran said.

Plan Illogical

Mellon said the original Volstead Act plan to place prohibition enforcement under the internal revenue plan was "illogical."

The treasury secretary said he did not believe the issuance of industrial alcohol permits belonged either in the treasury or in the justice department, but if should be left in the treasury until a definite place is found.

MORTEMOTH KILLS MOTHS

The gas from Mortemoth crystals not only protects your furniture for a long time, but contact with it kills all moths, their eggs and their dangerous larvae in furniture which is already infested.

The proper method of using Mortemoth crystals is to tie them in small sacks, and to place these sacks down in the channel of the piece, as deeply as possible, behind the cushions, so that, upon expansion, the gas will spread and fill the spring units in the back and in the bottom of the piece.

When the sacks are empty, fill them again.
